

COLORS

David Gibson Sr.

COLORS

Published by Unforgettable Media
umedia.fun

Text copyright © 2026 by David Gibson Sr.
Illustrations copyright © 2026 by Unforgettable Media

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, distributed, or transmitted in any form or by any means, including photocopying, recording, or other electronic or mechanical methods, without the prior written permission of the publisher, except in the case of brief quotations embodied in critical reviews and certain other noncommercial uses permitted by copyright law.

The illustrations in this book were created with the assistance of generative artificial intelligence and edited under the direction of the author.

First edition, 2026.

Printed in the United States of America.

For permissions and enquiries, visit umedia.fun

For everyone who has ever been left out of the picture.

God gave us all different colors to be able to see the beauty in one another.

God didn't give us color to harm each other, or our sister and brother.

God gave us all different colors because He didn't want the earth to be so bland.

We are the salt, the grain, the sand.

God gave us all different colors to add purpose to your sight.
God didn't give us all different colors to continually divide and fight.

God divided us by language, not by color,